Governing Directive	NAVMED P-117, Manual of the Medical Department
---------------------	--

1. Policy

a. Every officer and enlisted member of Navy must be given instruction to ensure knowledge and ability in the principles of first aid. When personnel of the Medical Department are available, they shall give such instruction as specified in NAVMED P-117.

b. When medical personnel are not available, instruction in the following principles shall be given:

(1)	How to use the fireman's carry, and the tied-hands crawl to transport an injured person.
(2)	How to control hemorrhage by the use of pressure points, dressings and by the use of a tourniquet.
(3)	How to give artificial respiration using the mouth-to-mouth and mouth-to-nose method.
(4)	How to recognize shock and administer the proper treatment.
(5)	How to treat first, second, and third degree burns.
(6)	How to administer a morphine syrette.
(7)	How to administer autoinjectors for biologic and chemical warfare.
